

The National Institutes of Health's Environmental Management System

To Protect the Future, Take Action Into Your Hands

NEMS
NIH's Environmental
Management System

Each day more than 20,000 people arrive at the NIH campus to conduct or support research on public health. Think about what you do at NIH, how you do it, and what YOU can do to limit your impacts on the environment. At the NIH we all have a role in protecting the health of the nation.

We are counting on you!

For more information contact: Terry Leland EMS Coordinator 301.496.7775; lelandt@mail.nih.gov